

Catherine cares about what people think about her. She wants a good reputation.

- Catherine wants Ryan to go away because she doesn't want to get embarrassed in front of Kristi.
- Catherine doesn't like Ryan because he's mean to David, and she doesn't want Ryan to tell Kristi bad things about her.
- She yells at Ryan for giving David an empty wrapper which shows that she stands up for her brother, this might make her have a good reputation.
- Catherine wants Ryan to get away so he doesn't tease David and so that she doesn't get mad because when she gets mad it may show to Kristi that she doesn't have a good reputation.
- Catherine does not want David to come next door because Catherine will get embarrassed.
- Catherine tries to hold back yelling at Ryan because she doesn't want to get embarrassed in front of Kristi.
- Catherine doesn't want David to come at first because she doesn't want to get mad at him.
- Catherine is annoyed with David because he says over and over again "my turn" "my turn"
- Catherine is thinking that maybe she shouldn't do this because people are looking but she imagines them as statues so she doesn't think about it. She doesn't want to stop but she also doesn't want to feel embarrassed.
- Maybe Catherine cares about what Jason thinks about her. She doesn't want him to think that she cares about what people think.